Keep the Kidneys Well

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Norway People Know How to Save It.

Many Norway people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health—the slightest delay is dangerous. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers. Here is a Norway citizen's recommendation.

Mrs. Joseph A. Woods, Summer St., Norway, Me., says: "I had been annoyed by backache and kidney trouble for a long time. I tried many remedies, but got no relief until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. Two boxes helped me in every way. I also wish to say that Doan's Kidney Pills cured my little son of kidney weakness and improved his health. You may continue publishing the statement I gave in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Children's Column.

Bethel, Me., Oct. 9, 1913.

DEAR EDITOR AND YOUNG FOLKS:—I am coming to see you once more and tell you about a trip recent made with mamma and my cousin brother. We started from Bethel, August 20. Mr. Gregg from Andover came after us and took us to East Andover where I stayed till August 24 and played with my old school-mates, then I went over to West Byron to my uncle's A. A. Richmond's, and while I was there I and my cousin went gunning. Did any of you ever go after spruce gum? Isn't it fun?

On Sept. 1, I went over to Byron. O yes, we got left on the morning train. We went over to the postoffice. Mamma was a little acquainted there and stayed till afternoon. I looked at postcards and pictures and played on the piano and was out in the hammock and tent part of the time. Mrs. Dunn and her daughter made time pass so pleasantly that the two o'clock train came all too soon.

We went to Rumford where my sister, Lucy Bixby, met us and we rode over to Mexico. Sept. 8, we went to Cheney House to moving pictures and there was Ajax the strong man.

We crossed the foot bridge and that was real fun too. It made mamma some dizzy. At night we went over town on the big car and thence to Virginia where uncle E. B. Spofford took us to his home and came back to Mexico next day.

Sept. 11, we came to Andover on the automobile. We had a lovely ride and I enjoyed my stay at Mr. Averill's very much. I went to the moving picture show with his girls and down to the river.

Sept. 14, Mr. Averill took mamma and me to Bethel and left me here. I cried when mamma left. Then uncle Joe Spofford came and got me and now I am happy. I am going to school here. My teacher's name is Mildred Eagle. I like her very much. The school is about ten minutes walk from here.

The answer to the riddle I sent was that young man was his own boy. I saw one or two very funny sights and will tell you one, if you can solve it let children, the oldest was 11, the youngest two. Now these was a nephew and a grand child; also a child, a brother, a sister, an uncle and aunt. Can you puzzle it out.

I go to Sunday School. It is three miles and a half. Mrs. Annis is my Sabbath school teacher. I live on a small farm. They have a horse and a flock of hens, for pets two cats.

I think as this is such a long letter I will close hoping to see lots of pieces from the children, from the older as well as the younger. I am afraid some of you young folks think you are too old when your are only just kids yet.

Good bye all.

Llewellyn A. Wadsworth is recovering from illness.

The work on the State road was suspended while Road Commissioner Merrill attended Fryeburg Fair.

Albert F. and Frederick S. Howard have sold their farm, known as the Edson place, Spring place, to Edwin D. Walker and Edwin R. Walker of Brownfield, and Calvin F. Clemons of Hiram. The farm was settled at an early date by Capt. Edmund Skillings, whose house was in the lower field near an immense house. Even now bricks are plowed up near the spot. The road to Hiram Hill formerly went by it, up on the northwest side of Red Mill Brook.

About 1806 John Spring, father of John H., bought the farm and remained in the Spring family till about 1887.

On Oct. 16, Mrs. Ruth Gould, widow of the late Elias Gould, and mother of ex-Congressman Samuel W. Gould, was 90 years old. She resides with her stepson, Melville Gould, her P. O. address being Hiram. She is the last survivor of ten children of Bill P. Clemons, a brother of John Jr., who removed from Hiram in March, 1817, to Sandusky, Ohio, and was the ancestor of Samuel L. Clemons, known in the literary world as Mark Twain. Mary Smiley Nixon of Mayfield, a great granddaughter of John Clemons, Jr., recently visited Mrs. Gould is related by birth to marriage to more than one-tenth of the population of Hiram, mainly in the Clemons, Wadsworth, Gould and Stanley families.

WOMEN SUBJECT TO KIDNEY TROUBLES

I beg to say that I have been a constant sufferer with severe pains in my back and was on the verge of nervous prostration resulting from kidney trouble and other complications. A friend of mine recommended Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root as a sure cure for these troubles.

Acting upon her advice I began taking Swamp-Root and began to improve before I had finished the first bottle. I continued its use until I had taken several bottles and continued to improve until I was completely cured.

I am happy to say that as well as any woman on earth and have been so for the past nine years, thanks to Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and I cheerfully recommend it to all who suffer from kidney trouble.

Very truly yours,
MRS. ALVA BAXTER,

WHY YOU SHOULD USE CHILTON PAINT

It is a Pure Linseed Oil Paint. It contains no Benzine or Naptha in any form. Its record for durability is not surpassed. It has been used here in Norway for 20 years. It covers more, covers better and wears longer than many other advertised brands.

It really costs less than paints sold for less money, for it must be thinned with Linseed Oil or Turpentine before using. Try it this year and you will always demand it.

How the New Federal Bird Laws Affect New England.

Every Sportsman of New England will be interested to know how the new Federal Regulations for the Protection of Migratory Birds affect his territory. He will want to know under what circumstances the Federal laws take precedence and when the State laws are effective. A little study of these different regulations will be necessary to determine whether he is hunting legally or illegally.

Under an act of Congress, passed March 4, 1913, known as the McLean-Weeks Bill, the Federal Government was given the power to make regulations to fix the closed seasons for migratory birds. On October 1, at 12:40 p. m., these regulations were signed by the President, as the statute required, and how have the force of law. Under these regulations New England comes in the Northern Zone or Zone No. 1.

The Federal Regulations apply to migratory birds, but not to all migratory birds; only to migratory game and insectivorous birds. If a game bird is migratory it is included under the regulations. The ruffed grouse, bob-white and prairie hen are not considered migratory enough to be included under these regulations. On the other hand the woodcock and snipe are included.

All perching birds which feed entirely or chiefly on insects are protected at all times. This included bobolinks, catbirds, chickadees, cuckoos, flickers, flycatchers, grosbeaks, hummingbirds, kinglets, meadowlarks, night hawks, nuthatches, orioles, robins, shrikes, swallows, swifts, tanagers, thrushes, vireos, warblers, waxwings, whip-poor-wills, woodpeckers and wrens. Kingfishers, for example which are insectivorous in a small degree, are not included, but they may be protected under State laws.

Consultation with State and Federal legal authorities show that they agree that the Federal laws take precedence over State laws except where the State law makes a shorter open season than the Federal law, in which case there is nothing to prevent the State authorities from enforcing the State law.

For example: the Federal Regulations in Massachusetts fix the open season on woodcock from October 10 to December 1, while under the State law the season is established to coincide with that of the grouse and extends from October 12 to November 12. In such a case the State law will hold, but when the open season under the State law begins earlier and ends later than that under the Federal Regulations, the Federal Regulations will hold.

The open season for migratory birds in Zone No. 1 under the Federal Regulations are as follows: Waterfowl, September 1 to December 15; exceptions in New England, Massachusetts from September 15 to January 1. Rail, Coots and Gallinules, September 1 to December 1; exceptions in New England, New Hampshire and Rhode Island from August 15 to December 1; Connecticut, September 15 to December 1. Woodcock, October 1 to December 1; exceptions in New England, Connecticut and Massachusetts from October 10 to December 1 and in Rhode Island from November 1 to December 1.

Shore Birds—Black-breasted and golden plover, jaegers and yellowlegs, September 1 to December 15; exceptions in New England, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Rhode Island from August 15 to December 1. The shore birds named above are the only species that may be legally killed for five years under the new Federal Regulations. All small plover, sandpipers, or "peeps" and "grassbirds" are protected at all times. All migratory game birds are protected from sunset to sunrise throughout the United States, and in Vermont, rails are protected until the year 1918. There is a closed season on wood ducks in New England until September 1918. The regulation of the collecting of birds for scientific purposes is left to the several states.

EDWARD HOWE FURBUSH.

October Pomona.

The October session of Oxford County Pomona met with Frederick Robie grange at Otisfield Gore. The forenoon session was devoted to business and the offering of the fifth degree on a class of thirteen, who represented several different granges. The officers were all present with one exception. Worthy Master Henry E. Jillean presided. At noon a beautiful collation was served, which was under the direction of the lady officers.

The afternoon session was open to the public. There was a large attendance. Eleven granges were represented. The following program was given—Music, choir; reading, Mrs. Elbridge Pike (soprano); reading, Ida Grover (soprano); music, choir; discussion on best methods of raising corn, opened by Worthy Lecturer L. E. McLeitire, followed by Brother George Green and Worthy Master Henry E. Jillean; reading, Rev. Mr. Sias (soprano); reading, Chas. Thurlow; music, choir. This was a fine program, well carried out. # This Beautiful Hair

Is like what you want your hair to be—

Lustrous, bright and glossy; soft, silky and wavy.

To have beautiful hair like this, use

HARMONY HAIR BEAUTIFIER

It's just what its name implies—just to make the hair glossy, and lustrous, and more beautiful—just to make it easier to dress, and more natural to fall easily and gracefully into the wavy lines and folds of the coiffure, just to give that delightful fresh and cool effect, and leave a lingering, delicate, elusive perfume.

Will not change or darken the color of the hair. Contains no oil; therefore, cannot leave the hair sticky or stringy.

Very pleasant to use, very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it.

To thoroughly clean your hair and scalp, use

Harmony Shampoo

A liquid shampoo to keep the hair clean, soft, smooth and beautiful. It gives an instantaneous rich, foaming lather, penetrating to every part of the hair and scalp. It is washed off just as quickly, the entire operation taking only a few moments.

It leaves no lumps or stickiness.

—Just a refreshing sense of cool, sweet cleanliness.

—Just a dainty, pleasant and clean fragrance.

Both in odd-shaped ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops.

Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00; Harmony Shampoo, 50c.

Both guaranteed to please you, or your money back.

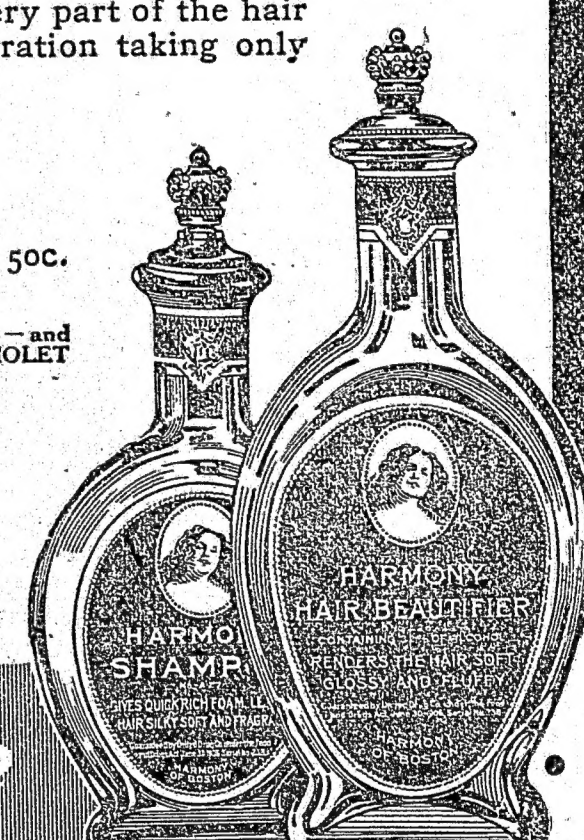

Sold only by the more than 7000 Rexall Stores—The World's Greatest Drug Stores—and made in our own Boston Laboratories, where all the delightful HARMONY, VIOLET PULSE and BOUQUET JEANNE Perfumes and Toilet Preparations are made.

SOUTH WATERFORD.

Apple picking has commenced in some orchards.

Brown-tail moth nests are about as plentiful as apples.

Alma Honey of Holyoke, Mass., is a visiting guest of Mrs. Augusta Monroe.

Mrs. Julia Whitney of Harrison reports settling six hens on 13 eggs to each hen,

78 eggs in all. She has or had recently

80 chicks as the result. Incredible isn't it? But there are or were the chickens.

W. K. Hamlin is filling his silo with yellow corn of a very tall growing variety long ears, well filled and as green as ever from his old mountain farm; perhaps the most elevated cornfield in town.

A contractor for cement work with a crew of workmen have been laying a big job of basement floors in the new old

Houghton hotel and stable buildings, which are quite the sensation of the year in the line of building construction.

Howard Dearborn, while driving one of W. K. Hamlin's heavy team wagons was thrown to the ground and received a serious injury by the wheel striking his head. He was able to be out the next day and it is believed he will soon recover.

Miss Payson, whose fine summer residence is a conspicuous object on the East from Kooka Lake, received $45 for product of about seven eighths of an acre of sweet corn. All the dressing given the land was a moderate fertilizing with phosphate.

Hon. Charles Sumner Cook of Portland, accompanied by his daughter, sister and two nieces made an excursion to Waterford last Sunday in the big Cadillac auto. His trip included a brief visit to his friend, Capt. Granville Fernald at Oak Lodge. He returned to Portland

the same day via Harrison village and Bolster's Mills.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING

To Keep Well?

To be still strong and active at 40 or 50, to be well, free from pain and discomfort at 75 or 80. Are you careful about your eating, eat slowly and the right kind of food? Exercise enough out-of-doors by day? Plenty of fresh air in your sleeping apartments at night? Watching the bowels and liver to keep them active, taking a teaspoonful of "L. E." Atwood's Medicine to quicken them when needed and to break up a cold when first symptoms appear?

Mrs. O. B. Fuller, Union, Me., writes:

"The 'L. E.' Medicine has been our standard remedy for years. Neither my husband, children or myself have been sick enough for a doctor in twenty years. I tell my friends it is because I always have 'L. E.' Medicine on hand, and 'An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.'"

On sale at all good stores. 35 cents

HARRISON.

Chester Lincoln Walker.

Charles Lincoln Walker passed to the higher life, Tuesday morning, Oct. 7, at 2.40 o'clock, at the age of 75 years. He was born in this town and has spent the whole of his life here on the farm which was owned by his father, Charles Walker.

Mr. Walker was a member of the Free Baptist church here for fifty years, clerk of the church for more than thirty years and a member of the choir a great many years.

He was thrice married, his first wife being Lydia Sawyer; his second wife was Sarah Harmon, both deceased. He is survived by his third wife, Mary Haley Walker. He also leaves three sons to mourn his decease—Dr. Sidney L. Walker of Keene, N. H., Wilfred Walker of Woodfords and Wilson Walker of South Paris.

Mr. Walker was respected by all who knew him and will be greatly missed. Rev. J. B. Coy conducted the funeral services at his late home on Thursday afternoon. Members of the Harrison I. O. O. F. Lodge of which the deceased was a charter member, attended in a body. Interment was in the family lot in the village cemetery, and the beautiful flowers were a true testimonial of the esteem in which he was held.

Samuel Abbott, the oldest man in town, passed away Tuesday evening, Oct. 7, after a lingering illness of several months, at the age of ninety years and two months.

Mr. Abbott was a man highly respected and esteemed by all who knew him. Religiously he was a faithful Baptist, becoming a deacon at the age of eight years, and being baptized and joining the church at 15 years of age.

A few years ago Mr. Abbott was presented by the Boston Post with the gold headed cane, a prize given to the oldest man in every town.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Betsey Kilgore, of Waterford, and one brother, Charles Abbott, of Bridgton Highlands; also several nephews and nieces.

He was faithfully cared for in his later years by his nephew and niece, Oliver and Kate Abbott, of this village.

The funeral services, Friday forenoon, were attended by the Rev. J. B. Coy. Two solos, "Face to Face" and "Watching for Me," were beautifully rendered by Mrs. Edith B. Russell, with Mrs. George Flint at the organ. Interment was beside his first wife in the Woodsum cemetery. The floral tributes were abundant and in profusion.

Rev. William W. Laite occupied the pulpit on Sunday last, afternoon and evening, having been appointed to supply this place and the church at Spurr's Corner. Mr. Laite comes highly recommended, having been located over the People's church in Montpelier, Vermont, and also in New Bedford, Mass.

Owing to his wife's poor health, he has come to the country. Mr. Laite's methods are evidently up-to-date, he is wide awake and he held the closest attention of his large congregation. The service was of special interest to members of the Eastern Star as it dealt with the history of history. An enthusiastic praise service opened the evening meeting. There will be a mid-week prayer meeting each Wednesday evening.

OXFORD

Joseph R. Parrott, president of the Florida East Coast Railroad, died at his summer camp here Monday night, of angina pectoris. The end came suddenly. During the last few days he was apparently in normal health.

Mr. Parrott was born in Oxford, Oct. 30, 1858, so that he was only 55 years old, really in the prime of life. His family consists of his widow, who was Helen Merceur of New Haven, and one daughter, Mrs. Helen McDonald of New York, while other relatives who survive are his aged father, George J. Parrott, of Oxford, three brothers, James E. Parrott of Oxford, Albert E. Parrott of Providence and Elmer M. Parrott of Portland, and one sister, Mrs. Thomas Koehne, of Jamaica Plain.

Parrott attended the public schools of Oxford and then for college at Hebron and Phillips-Andover, and then entered Yale. There he jumped into prominence as an athlete, and from 1882 to 1885 was one of Yale's best oarsmen, as well as a member of the Yale classical course. He took his degree at the Yale Law school, and then for a short time he was in the office of Charles F. Libby of Portland.

An opening appeared in Florida, and he went there and became a member of a firm that was counsel for the Jacksonville, Tampa & Key West railroad. Later this road was merged with Flagler's Florida Southern and then, the merger failing, Parrott was appointed receiver for the combined roads. By 1892, however, Flagler had succeeded in clearing his road and he engaged Parrott as his chief counsel, and made him vice president of the railroad and of the Florida East Coast Canal.

It was because of his position and his proved worth that Flagler went to Parrott when he was considering the construction of the line from the mainland out to Key West. And Parrott undertook to carry it through, backed by Flagler's resources and under his direction. He was second only in prominence to Henry M. Flagler in the development of the wonderful railway that reaches 70 miles out over the Florida Keys. A plain-born boy from the Oxford Hills was the one of all men who devoted his master mind to this vast enterprise.

Despite his toil and perplexities in the faraway city of Jacksonville, Mr. Parrott never lost an atom of affection for his native town in his native State and never well did he enjoy himself as when back among the old familiar scenes of his boyhood. He found time every year for a vacation visit, and his palatial summer home on Mosquito Island in Lake Thompson, is a spot where he summed as a boy, and surrounded by the waters where he and the other boys of those days, fished, swam and sailed their boats. This charming spot has been beautified by his owner who sought in his sequestered there such quiet and contentment as can be found in the State of Maine more satisfactory than any where else in the world. For more than a quarter of a century his name has been continuously on the subscription list of the Norway (Oxford Co.) Advertiser, his home paper.

He came to Oxford in July when impaired health gave its first warning that overwork threatened serious consequences. At times he has seemed in a fair way to recover but such good fortune was not to be his, and it was decided that his life's work should end Monday night, in his old town in the midst of old friends, to which and to whom he was ever loyal and considerate.

NORTH LOVELL

Gorham Perley McAllister, died of heart failure, Monday, Oct. 14th, at the age of 65 years. He was at Lyons Camp and fell down dead.

He was born in Stoneham, July 2, 1848, the son of Peter and Almira (Palmer) McAllister. He lived in Stoneham till he was 13 years old, after that in Lovell. He attended school in Stoneham and Lovell.

Mr. McAllister was a farmer. He had always been a Republican. He was a member of the Christian church, Center Lovell. For three years he was president of the telephone Co.

He married Fannie McDaniels in Lovell in 1869. They had three children, Virgil McAllister, a Pullman conductor in Portland; Mrs. G. A. Kimball of Center Lovell; and Myra Pearl McAllister, who died eleven years ago. His wife and two children survive him.

The funeral was from his late home, Oct. 16, Rev. J. W. Webster of the Christian church, Center Lovell, being the attending clergyman. There was singing by Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Eastman, George Eastman and Mrs. J. A. Farnham, Mrs. C. L. Stearns, pianist. The bearers were S. G. McAllister, H. W. Palmer, H. R. Andrews and Lewis Andrews. Burial in Pine Grove cemetery at North Lovell. There were many beautiful flowers.

IF MOTHERS ONLY KNEW

How frequently children suffer from worms they would take more precautions against this common ailment of childhood. Grown folks also have worms very frequently. Signs of worms are: De-ranged stomach, tongue, belching, variable appetite, increased thirst, acid or heavy breath, nausea, Traces of enlarged abdomen, variable bowel action, pale face of leaden tint, bluish rings around eyes, itching of nose, nervous irritability, disturbed sleep, grinding of teeth, irregularity of pulse. Over 60 years ago my father discovered the formula of Dr. True's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller. This remedy has a world-wide reputation as the one and only reliable remedy for worms and stomach disorders. At dealers' 35c, 50c, and $1.00. Advice free. Write me. 42-43

Not Paint.

With linseed oil at $1, what sort of oil do you think they use in "paint" at $1.75 and $1.50?
That stuff is counterfeit paint. You can cheat yourself; you can't cheat Time or Weather.
Paint is a rubbery coat over wood and iron to keep out water.
Counterfeit paint may look like it; counterfeit money looks like money.
What are all counterfeits for? They are all alike.

Harken Back on The Past.

Thirty-Three Years Ago This Week.

F. H. Noyes, the grocery man, has a new record in the paper. His other ad ran 21 weeks before it was changed. Not a word was said regarding price of goods in either ad. In fact no price was given in any ad in the paper of 32 years ago.

Adna Needham shot a 400 pound bear and its carcass is at J. C. Bennett & Son's meat market.
David S. Andrews leaves for Virginia, Monday, to resume his lumbering operations.

E. C. Jackson, V. S., removed a 4 1/2 tumor from a horse owned by Mr. Estes of Gilead.
Statement of the Norway National Savings Bank shows deposit of $111,584.76. The last published report showed deposits of $835,353.00, which is an increase of over $473,000.00. Interest charges were then 6 to 8 per cent, now 5 to 6 per cent.

Thirty-one Years Ago This Week.
A four pound pickerel was caught in the bog by Geo. W. Horne and W. O. Morse.
The much talked of Norway Lyceum Course of Lectures start with James Kay Applebee, a fine lecturer. Russell H. Garwood and G. W. Perry will lecture later on.

A town meeting is soon to be called to see what action the town will take regarding the shoe factory.

Women of Middle Age

From 40 to 50 Woman's Critical Period.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, severe headaches, melancholia, dread of impending evil, palpitation of the heart, irregularity, constipation and dizziness are promptly treated by intelligent women who are approaching the period of life.

This is the most critical period of woman's life and she who neglects the care of her health at this time invites incurable disease and pain. Why not be guided by the experience of others and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? It is an indisputable fact that this grand old remedy has helped thousands of women to pass through this trying period with comfort and safety. Thousands of genuine and honest testimonials support this fact.

From Mrs. HENRY HEAVILIN, Cadiz, Ohio.

Fort Worth, Texas.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and derived great benefit from its use. It carried me safely through the Change of Life when I was in bad health. I had that all gone feeling most of the time, and headache constantly, I was very nervous and the hot flashes were very bad. I had tried other remedies and doctors, but did not improve until I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has now been some time since I took the Compound and I have had no return of my old complaints. I always praise your remedies to weak women."—Mrs. HENRY HEAVILIN, R. F. D. No. 5, Cadiz, Ohio.

From Mrs. EDWARD B. HILBERT, Fleetwood, Pa.

Fleetwood, Pa.—"During the Change of Life I was hardly able to be around at all. I always had a headache and I was so dizzy and nervous that I had no rest at night. The flashes of heat were so bad sometimes that I did not know what to do.

"One day a friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made me a strong, well woman. I am very thankful that I followed my friend's advice, and I shall recommend it as long as I live. Before I took the Compound I was always sickly and now I have not had medicine from a doctor for years. You may publish my letter."—Mrs. EDWARD B. HILBERT, Fleetwood, Pa.

From Mrs. F. P. MULLENDORE, Munford, Ala.

Munford, Ala.—"I was so weak and nervous while passing through the Change of Life that I could hardly live. My husband had to nail rubber on all the gates for I could not stand to have a gate slam.

"I also had backache and a fullness in my stomach. I noticed that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was advertised for such cases and I sent and got a bottle. It did me so much good that I kept on taking it and I found it to be all you claim. I recommend it to all women afflicted as I was."—Mrs. F. P. MULLENDORE, Munford, Ala.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO., (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Friendships of Children.

A child is making new friends all the time. Childhood, indeed, is preeminently the time for friendship making. Changes in a family's location mean new friends for the child, and the child, in the entering of a new class in school, or any other of the ordinary events in the child's development. The going away from home on a visit, or perhaps on a vacation trip, may and very likely does, bring the child into contact with new friends. For a time, at least, this is an important place in his life.

Some children are not given to making friendships quickly, just as others have the faculty of forming intimacies at short notice. Certain children, as a matter of fact, never are "popular," in the usually accepted sense of the word. Others seem destined to be the center of the group, large or small, with which they happen to be associated. It is an old saying, that a man is known by the company he keeps. Certainly he is influenced by it. And how much more must this be the case with the boy or girl whose habits and ideas are not as yet formed.

The friendships of a child, or, to put it in another way, the associations that a child has, must be a subject of special interest and importance to his parents. It is a subject, moreover, that must be kept pretty certainly in mind. In a child is a happening of consequences. A friendship, an intimacy of any sort means something. That it should have the best meaning should be the parents' desire.

There is a certain schooling in friendship through which people of every age have to pass. It comes as with any sort of schooling that amounts to anything, largely from experience, and sometimes through bitter experience. But there can be sensible preparation for it. A child, a preparation that will help him to the experiences that will be his, should be, and this preparation parents owe to their children to give, so far as it is possible.

This preparation relates first to the choice of friends, and second, to the treatment of friends. A child trained intelligently and lovingly in both these respects undoubtedly will be saved many a mistake, and the joy and usefulness of his life will be decidedly enhanced.

Of course, the question of likes and dislikes is not one of the acquisition, at least, it is sometimes more difficult to explain attraction than the lack of it. But with the child, at least, there is almost always something that presents itself in explanation, and this something the father and mother can seek to understand.

If it is desirable quality shown by the person to whom the child gives his friendship, there is cause for rejoicing. If it is not, there is occasion for action by those to whom the child's welfare is so much at stake. It is not possible, nor, indeed, absolutely in this matter of choice of friends, but he can be shown what his associate calls forth admiration, and he can be warned, if occasion requires, as to dangers in his path.

All this depends on the child's closeness to his parents, on the measure in which he confides in his parents, and lets his parents help him. When a child makes a new friend it is to be expected that he will tell of the acquisition, at least, it is sometimes more difficult to explain attraction than the lack of it. ## A CLERGYMAN'S STORY

Came Near Losing His Life—How He Escaped

REV. G. W. ROBERTS, for me after R. D. Box 27, Hartsell, Ala.

The following letter was received by The Peruna Co., from Rev. G. W. Roberts, R. R. 2, Box 27, Hartsell, Alabama, under date of April 2, 1904, which is exactly nine years ago.

He says: "I take pleasure in informing you of what your Peruna has done for me after three years of suffering. I had tried the treatments of several doctors, also home remedies, but they failed and all hope had gone. My friends, like myself, thought I was in the last stages of consumption."

"My daughter brought me a bottle of Peruna and I took it. I had lost my voice, and I thought it no use. That was in May, 1902. I began to take it, according to directions. I wrote to you, and you gave me your kind advice."

"I soon felt better, my cough began to give way, and the expectation lessened. I have taken fourteen bottles. I feel well, eat hearty, sleep soundly, weigh as much as I ever did, do considerable work on my farm, and attend to my other business. My friends seem astonished at my recovery."

"I wish to thank you for your kind advice and the books you have sent me. I shall ever praise your medicine and hope that you may enjoy a long life."

It will be observed that Rev. Roberts waited two years after he began to use Peruna, before he wrote the above letter to The Peruna Co. So that his apparent recovery could not possibly have been temporary relief.

In a later letter to The Peruna Co., dated September 22, 1906, Rev. Roberts says: "I am a great friend of Peruna. By the use of Dr. Hartman's advice I am here to-day, able to be with my family and attend to my business."

We quote from another letter, dated December 10, 1906: "I praise Peruna to all the sick. The people know my case, and they praise it also."

In a letter dated November 22, 1909, we quote Rev. Roberts: "Peruna gave me back my life ten years ago. All my acquaintances know that. I am certainly thankful to you for your kindness."

In a later letter, dated January 13, 1910, he says: "I shall ever in the future, as in the past, be ready to speak in praise of Peruna to all sufferers. I believe my miraculous cure has been the means of many others being cured in this county."

From a letter of September 5, 1911, we quote a few words: "I am still among the living. As to Peruna, I do not feel that I have words to express the faith I have in its merits. I feel that Peruna has been the means, through the kind providence of God, of prolonging my life for more than ten years."

We quote a still later letter, October 31, 1912. He says: "I took a severe cold three weeks ago. I at once sent for Peruna. Have been taking it two weeks. I am now better. I consider that Peruna has carried me over a dozen years of life. I always stand ready to answer any question in reference to Peruna."

We quote from his last letter, dated January 2, 1913: "Dear Friends: I wish this bright New Year to express my thanks to you for your kindness. Trusting that you may have a successful and happy year, and that your medicine may prove a blessing to many as it has to me, I am yours as ever, G. W. Roberts, Hartsell, Alabama, R. F. D. 2, Box 27."

It is not necessary for us to add any words to this story. The eloquence and pathos of these letters are more convincing than arguments or affidavits. Who can doubt the clergyman's story? Who can doubt that Peruna saved his life?
